

RootsTech 2016 Class Syllabus

Who's That & How Are They Related To Me?

Class date & Time: Friday, Feb. 5th at 3:30 pm

Class ID: GS2780-F

Class Description: Develop memorable family bonding and connections to past, present & future generations. Learn how to discover simple, fast, fun and easy ways to remember and grow your family narrative. With over 50+ FUN & CREATIVE ideas, tips, games and practices.

Please come prepared to PLAY! Attendees, please bring a 4 x 6 printed photo of self (selfie) or of any other family member, this other photo can be of an immediate, extended, adopted, blended, ancestor member and/or beloved pet.

Speaker: Jill DeAnn Evans

Contact: jilldeannevans@gmail.com

801-995-1150

Lehi, Utah, USA

You can find me on:

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Jilldeannevans> and

<https://www.facebook.com/Jill-D-Evans-1647081825538930/?fref=ts>

Speaker Background: Striving to maximize her degree in Design/Multimedia and Illustration over the past 20 years, Jill has served in a variety of creative, administrative and connective positions for several organizations and companies. Including acting as; Strategic Director, Creative Director, Small Business Consultant, Designer & Instructor, Graphic/Web Designer, Certified Professional Demonstrator, Book Author, Contributing Publication Designer/Writer and Marketing Manager. She has enjoyed working with StoryRock/MyMemories.com, the Meredith Corporation, Publications International LTD., Women's World/Bauer Media, Fiskars, HSN & QVC, CHA, SCBWI, along with a variety of consultancy work for small businesses & individual entrepreneurs.

In her free time, she loves spending time outdoors, finding new ways to be involved in activities with her family, reading, gardening and looking forward to her newest adventures as a grandma.

Class Outline & Objectives:

This class will offer suggestions on teaching toddlers, young children, teens and adults how to identify with and where they come from through connections with their family - living and past.

- 1) Introduction into the value of understanding the learning and education preferences of individual family members that would overall assist in engaging them into their family history.
- 2) Emphasis on the importance of recording and telling your story and in establishing a devoted family time that motivates and creates the desire to learn about and remember family connections.
- 3) The why and how of planning and adding creative, personal twists to time-honored games, unique interactive family activities and in creating a variety of family publications using photos, stories and memories that engages all participants, no matter their age to join in the fun.
- 4) We'll discuss using a variety of valuable resources and tips for both unplugged and plugged-in tech options that are useful for building your family narrative.

A printed one page handout will be available to the attendees.

Class ID: GS2780-F Who's That & How Are They Related To Me? with Jill DeAnn Evans

RootsTech Class Category:

Share

Innovator Summit Class Category:

Family History Skill Level:

Beginner

Technology Skill Level:

Beginner

Session Type

Traditional Class Session

Session Length

1 hour